HAMMOND, FORGER, BELIEVED INSANE

Wild Acts of Cornell Dean's Son Laid to Injuries From Airplane Fall.

WOUNDED AT YPRES, TOO

"My Victims Are Well Able to Stand Losses," Says Accused Ex-Soldier.

The appointment of a lunacy commission to determine the mental responsibility of Donald Hammond, 24-year-old son of Prof. W. A. Hammond, dean of Cornell University, is looked for to-day, when he is arraigned in General Sessions on an indictment charging forgery in the second degree. Hammond, it is alleged, has lived at expensive hotels here and has victimized his and his father's friends with worthless checks since he returned from the fighting front last year.

It is Prof. Hammond's belief that the boy has not been right since he fell from an airplane in France and was severely injured. In 1914 he enlisted in Canada and went overseas with the first Canadian contingent. He was wounded by machine gun fire at Ypres.

After being discharged from the hospital Hammond returned to the United States without his discharge papers. A few months later he was back in England again, where he enlisted in the air force of the British navy. He won a Lieutenant's commission later and held the time of his fall while on parole duty.

Hammond has been in New York since he returned the second time. He has lived at the Waldorf-Astoria, the Manhattan Hotel, the Vanderbilt and other hotels, to which it is charged he owes considerable sums. The indictment accuses him of the theft from the Harbinger of an envelope containing $1,000 belonging to a Bradford Norman, Jr. He is charged with having forged an endorsement and cashing the check at the Harriman National Bank.

According to District Attorney Swann, who examined Hammond yesterday at his office, numerous other complaints have been made against him, largely by persons who said they had befriended the young man. Thomas A. McKenna, an attorney of 1 Liberty street, who represented Delmonico's in the matter of a $2,000 check charged against the ex-soldier by that concern, said yesterday that the money had been repaid and that he might appear as a witness for Hammond to-day. He explained that he knew the Hammond family well and had formerly been a pupil under Prof. Hammond at Cornell. The professor, it is said, has spent large sums of money in the past against his son by alleged victim claims.

"There is no doubt," said Mr. McKenna, "that the boy has beaten others out of large sums of money and that he probably would have continued to do so but for his arrest. I cannot believe that he is possessed of all his reasoning faculties or the sense of right or wrong."

By a Staff Correspondent of The Sun.
OTTAWA, July 31.—Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Railway Commission, is conceded as the choice of the Prime Minister for Minister of Finance to succeed Sir Thomas White, who resigns on Saturday. Sir Henry has never been in politics. He will contest a Toronto constituency and is sure to be elected. There is no enthusiasm over the appointment. The portfolio carried with it a heavy task. The Hon. J. D. Hansen, Chief Justice of New Brunswick, formerly Minister of Railways and Canals, is a likely successor of Sir Henry on the Railway Commission.

Sir Robert S. Horne, Minister of Labor, met with the British War Cabinet to-day and explained the miners' position. He arranged to confer late to-day with a deputation of mine workers, but leaders on both sides agreed that it was difficult to determine what should be the next step toward settlement. The newspapers in their editorials to-day commented on the danger to industry.

"The best thing for us to do," said Herbert Smith, head of the Yorkshire Miners' Federation, "is to sit tight and say nothing, then the Government will be represented or misunderstood." The proposed bakers' strike is threatened to enforce the demands of the men for a minimum wage of $20 a week, a forty-four hour week and the abolition of night work.

TAMMANY FACING CITYWIDE REVOLT

Democrats in All Boroughs Stirred by Dropping of Newburger.

CITIZENS PARTY TALKED

Autocratic Powers of Murphy and Other Leaders Are Denounced.

The action of Charles F. Murphy in turning down Justice Joseph E. Newburger for renomination to the Supreme Court, which has been denounced by many Democrats as a political blunder, may result in the crystallization of a general anti-Tammany movement in the five boroughs of New York city.

William F. Schneider, leader of the Cleveland Democracy, said yesterday: "I have received letters and telephone messages from Democrats identified with the insurgent movements in Queens, Brooklyn and the Bronx suggesting a conference on ways and means of curbing the dictatorial powers of the Tammany controlled organizations of these boroughs."

It is thought by many that the time has come to organize a citywide anti-Tammany Democracy that will be a check on the autocratic bossism of the controlling Tammany powers.

"I understand that the insurgent Democrats in Richmond are ready to join in such a movement. The idea is to organize a five borough committee to decide whether to name an anti-Tammany man for President of the Board of Aldermen and to oppose the judicial nominations of the Tammany crowd in the primaries."

CITIZENS PARTY IS SEEN.

"We would maintain any such organization to act in the campaign of 1921, when a full city ticket is to be put in the field. I believe that a conference will result in the formation of a citizens party to curb the rampant abuse of power by those now at the head of the organizations in the five boroughs."

Over the long distance telephone from Bluff Point last night Justice Newburger said he was not yet ready to announce whether he would run to succeed himself in opposition to Irwin Untermyer, the thirty-three-year-old son of Samuel Untermyer. He intimated that he would have no statement to make until Sunday.

He said yesterday that the Citizens Union probably would consider the Newburger case with a view to coming to his support actively.

FOLEY NOT TO RESIGN.

Senator James A. Foley, who has been selected by the Tammany organization as its candidate for surrogate, will not resign until after the primaries. There are three active candidates for his place in the Senate, and it might be embarrassing to have him resign before the election. Under section 51 of the election law the board of canvassers may select a candidate for any office that becomes vacant between the primaries and October 15.

The candidates for the nomination for the Senate in the district, which is Mr. Murphy's home district, are Assemblyman Mark A. Goldberg of the Fourteenth Assembly district; Assemblyman Martin G. McGuire of the Twelfth Assembly district, both of whom have served in the Assembly for thirteen years, and Joseph D. Kelly, who was an Assemblyman for many years prior to his election for the Senate. It is predicted that the latter will probably get the nomination.

AMERICANS ROBBED BY A MEXICAN LAW

More Than 1,000 U. S. Citizens, With Millions at Stake, Make Protest.

Pay to Be in Sonora Agrarian Bonds, Which Are Worthless, It Is Charged.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—More than 1,000 Americans are threatened with the loss of millions of dollars in investments by new agrarian law enacted by the Congress of Sonora, Mexico, at the direct instruction of Gov. Calles.

Several American companies have already filed complaints with the State Department against the operation of the law and other complaints are in preparation. The Department is preparing representations to the Carranza Government against putting the law into operation because of injustice to this Government.

The law provides that the State will pay for lands expropriated by agrarian bonds issued by the State, redeemable at a time and manner to be stipulated later. The new Constitution of Mexico provides that the States shall issue agrarian bonds under authority of a law that has not yet been enacted by the Federal Congress.

The Americans point out in their complaints that these bonds are of no value and that as the national Government of Mexico has not paid the interest on its bonds since 1913 there is no indication that the agrarian bonds will be of any value.

American holders of these lands have the alternative of selling the lands to the Mexican and paying in twenty years' installments of Mexican money. Any dispute is to be left in the hands of the Governor, who may act arbitrarily. American point out that to make much of the lands of Sonora for intensive irrigation works are necessary, and many millions of dollars have been expended there in every instance by citizens of the United States. The holdings of Americans have without exception been secured under the old Constitution. In fact, the Mexican Government has then constituted encouraged Americans in making these investments.

The complaints protest against the arbitrary expropriation of these lands. It is contended, means practical confiscation.

Simple Operations Fitted Together

The business of Swift & Company is the fitting together of many simple operations.

No one thing in a packing business is particularly difficult for men trained to do it; but no one thing is enough.

Thousands of other operations, properly performed, are necessary for the completed processes. And some one must fit together all these thousands of simple operations.

The success with which a packing business performs its function of supplying the best possible meat products to the consumer with the greatest possible benefit to both him and the producer depends upon the energy, brains, experience, and faithfulness of the men trained in the business.

Swift & Company turns the producer's live stock into meat for the consumer at a profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound, because it fits these operations together with the least waste, overlapping, and friction.
